

Courses

Eighth page

RCOT
www.rcot.co.uk
Contact: communities@rcot.co.uk

Depression care for people with cancer
28 February 2024 Online webinar Cost: Free
This webinar will be presented by Sam Glover, a Macmillan occupational Therapist working within a psychological medicine team. She will explore her role within the team providing depression care for people with cancer. Treatments are delivered by occupational therapists and clinical nurse specialists.

Eighth page: Approximately 60 words

1 course

Size: 90mm x 65mm

Quarter page

RCOT
www.rcot.co.uk/events
Contact: communities@rcot.co.uk

Eating disorders clinical forum
7 February 2024
Online | Cost: £156 including VAT
The eating disorder forum brings together OTs working in eating disorders, as well as new starters and students, aiming to share best practice, inspire new ways of working and provide a support to one another. Time: 2–3pm. Venue: Online via Zoom. Cost: Open to and free for members of RCOT SS – MH only. Contact: communities@rcot.co.uk

MLF Networking event
14 March 2024
Home/work-based study | Cost: £10 to £252.50
A quarterly session to provide networking and learning opportunities for members interested/working in the medico-legal field (expert witnesses, case managers and treating therapists) – to share best practice, experience and resources and problem solving. Each session will focus on a specific topic – with presentations (5/10 mins each) from the three different fields/perspectives; followed by Q&As. Time: 9.30–11am.

Quarter page: Approximately 110 words

2 courses

Size: 90mm x 130mm

RCOT

www.rcot.co.uk

Contact: communities@rcot.co.uk

Eating disorders clinical forum event

7 February 2024

Online | Cost: £156 including VAT

The eating disorder forum brings together OTs working in eating disorders, as well as new starters and students, aiming to share best practice, inspire new ways of working and provide a support to one another. Time: 2–3pm. Venue: Online via Zoom. Cost: Open to and free for members of RCOT SS – MH only.

MLF Networking event

14 March 2024

Home/work-based study | Cost: £10 to £252.50

A quarterly session to provide networking and learning opportunities for members interested/working in the medico-legal field (expert witnesses, case managers and treating therapists) – to share best practice, experience and resources and problem solving. Each session will focus on a specific topic – with presentations (5/10 mins each) from the three different fields/perspectives; followed by Q&As. Time: 9.30–11am.

Depression care for people with cancer

28 February 2024

Online webinar | Cost: Free

This webinar will be presented by Sam Glover, a Macmillan occupational Therapist working within a psychological medicine team. She will explore her role within the team providing depression care for people with cancer. Treatments are delivered by occupational therapists and clinical nurse specialists.

Rheumatology clinical forum webinar

24 January 2024

Online | Cost: £99 including VAT

Promoting effective change – a psychological approach to the treatment and self-management of rheumatology diseases. The rheumatology clinical forum is delighted to welcome Dr Dorothy Frizelle, Clinical Psychologist, to talk to us about promoting effective change with our patients within our OT practice. Time: 1–2.30pm.

RCOT Royal College of
Occupational Therapists

Half page: Approximately 230 words

Up to 4 courses depending on length of each course

Size: 186mm x 130mm

RCOT

www.rcot.co.uk

Contact: communities@rcot.co.uk

Eating disorders clinical forum event

7 February 2024

Online | Cost: £156 including VAT

The eating disorder forum brings together OTs working in eating disorders, as well as new starters and students, aiming to share best practice, inspire new ways of working and provide a support to one another. Time: 2–3pm. Cost: Open to and free for members of RCOT SS – MH only.

MLF Networking event

14 March 2024

Home/work-based study | Cost: £10 to £252.50

A quarterly session to provide networking and learning opportunities for members interested/working in the medico-legal field (expert witnesses, case managers and treating therapists) – to share best practice, experience and resources and problem solving. Each session will focus on a specific topic – with presentations (5/10 mins each) from the three different fields/perspectives; followed by Q&As. Time: 9.30–11am.

Depression care for people with cancer

28 February 2024

Online webinar | Cost: Free

This webinar will be presented by Sam Glover, a Macmillan occupational Therapist working within a psychological medicine team. She will explore her role within the team providing depression care for people with cancer. Treatments are delivered by occupational therapists and clinical nurse specialists.

Rheumatology clinical forum webinar

24 January 2024

Online | Cost: £99 including VAT

Promoting effective change – a psychological approach to the treatment and self-management of rheumatology diseases. The rheumatology clinical forum is delighted to welcome Dr Dorothy Frizelle, Clinical Psychologist, to talk to us about promoting effective change with our patients within our OT practice. Time: 1–2.30pm

Occupational therapy in the changing landscape of mental health: Annual conference 2024

1 March 2024

Venue: Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists, 10-18 Union St, London SE1 1GH.

Cost: RCOT SS – MH members free; RCOT SS – MH student members free; RCOT student members £25; RCOT members £100; non-members £200.

We're excited to announce our upcoming conference in London next year. The conference aims to support occupational therapists at any stage of their career journey by showcasing OT practice through keynote speakers, presentations, and discussions. Keep up to date on our event page and in our newsletter. Time: 9am–5pm. Bookings close Sunday 25 February 2024, 11.59pm.

Start-Up and Succeed (SUAS) Becoming an independent occupational therapist

10 February 2024

Online | Cost: £100 including VAT

An online one-day course comprising five one-hour interactive sessions and follow-up course – both facilitated by an experienced trainer. Aimed at occupational therapists considering and/or new to independent practice; participants will be supported in the identification of their chosen scope of independent practice; and the development of an action plan to guide progress and meet CPD requirements. Time: 9am–4.30pm. Follow up session 19 March 2024, 9.30–11am.

MLF Networking event

14 March 2024

Home/work-based study | Cost: £10 to £252.50

A quarterly session to provide networking and learning opportunities for members interested/working in the medico-legal field (expert witnesses, case managers and treating therapists) – to share best practice, experience and resources and problem solving. Each session will focus on a specific topic – with presentations (5/10 mins each) from the three different fields/perspectives; followed by Q&As. Time: 9.30–11am.

Depression care for people with cancer

28 February 2024

Online webinar | Cost: Free

As a whole group we will be reviewing the networking events in 2023 and planning what we want to focus on and how in 2024. Please think and bring your ideas and thoughts to the meeting. Networking event to link up specialist section members who work in or have an interest in working with individuals who present with complex behaviour/behaviour which challenges services. Students very welcome. Time: 4.30–6.30pm.

RCOT Royal College of Occupational Therapists