COT standard for SNOMED CT subset

5. Interventions recorded by occupational therapists

The routine use of occupational therapy terminology is one of the essential information building blocks that will support the profession to measure, evaluate and demonstrate the effectiveness of interventions with service users and carers. The College of Occupational Therapists, in collaboration with its members, has developed a number of occupational therapy subset standards which should be used for all service user care records, whether they are stored digitally or on paper.

Terms need to meet SNOMED CT requirements and, therefore, may not reflect the nuances of language used by different occupational therapists. As such, whilst listed alphabetically, the PDF ‘search’ feature may be useful when checking if a specific term has been included.

This subset of terms is comprised of interventions commonly recorded by occupational therapists:

- Access modification
- Acting as individual patient advocate
- Active listening
- Activity adaptation
- Activity analysis
