

Welcome to our profession

Join our learner community – we'll support you to connect, learn and grow at all stages of your future career.

Who are we

We're RCOT, a 36,000 strong community championing occupational therapy and continuous professional development.

You can help build the future of our amazing profession – as we help you build the skills you need year on year.

A student membership could:

- inspire you with resources and events
- build confidence through access to professional practice guidance and peer-to-peer meetings
- open up opportunities to shape our profession together
- give you peace of mind with UNISON representation and protection when you need it.

How to join

Join us by registering for an account at rcot.co.uk/join-us and choosing the right membership for you – for £5.13/month.

Please reach out to your programme team for specific sign-up information and discounts if you attend one of the following universities: University of Sunderland, Sheffield Hallam University, York St John University, Wrexham University and University of South Wales.

If you have any questions, get in touch via membership@rcot.co.uk.

“ RCOT has offered a wide range of resources which will be supportive not only throughout my degree but will also support my transition to a registered practitioner.”

Anna Fischer, student at Queen Margaret University

“ I highly recommend other students join this amazing platform and gain access to a library full of relevant journals and publications to help with their assignments, projects and practice placement documentation.”

Blessing Christian, student at Glasgow Caledonian University
